AT THE DIXIE.

Some of the best pictures of the whole year were seen last week at this favorite playhouse among which were "The Still Voice," a two-reel Vitagraph and "Wamba, A Child of the Jungle," a fine Selig wild animal two-reeler. These features were unusually good (in fact out of the ordinary). In addition to the features these were some of the best single reel pictures the writer has had the pleasure of seeing for some time.

The management of this house has promised a list of dramas and comedies equally as good as last week. Tonight will be one of the strongest programs of the whole season. Among these numbers will be Mr. G. M. Anderson (Broncho Billy) the old favorite in "The Tenderfoot Sheriff" and he is simply great in this number. Then comes Little Mary Fuller of the "What Happened to Mary," fame in the first number of a new series. "Who Will Marry Mary," which is being run in "The Ladie's World," and this promises to become equally as popular as the other strices. In fact the Edison company claims the new series to be more exciting and built along better lines than the former was. Then comes the popular Biograph company in one of their powerful dramas entitled "The Sorrows of the Sea," and I might add right here, that this is one of the kind that makes you hold the handles of your opera chair for it is thoroughly exciting. Possibly the grandest number on tonight's bill will be "The Message of the Rose," with Henry King and Dolly Larkin in the leading roles. It is a drama of beauty with grand settings and plenty of Pathos. It is a Lubin offering and that is sufficient to assure a fine production. Tuesday afternoon's bill will present a number of the favorites among whom are Dorothy Gish and Henry Walthall in the fine Biograph drama "Her Mother's Oath," and the Nash twin sisters in "Bingles at the Cabaret," which is a Vitagraph comedy scream. Then last but not least the great Lubin two-reel feature, "Love and War in Mexico," with plenty of exciting and thrilling situations to satisfy all. Tuesday night another great bill including "The Substitute Stenographer." A new series entitled "Kate Kirby's cases a great detective series in which Bessele Learn and Laura Sawyer do the leading characters. Others are, a rattling Selig drama "The Devil and Tom Walker," and a powerful Biograph drama, "Death's Marathon," with Blanche Sweet in the lead. Also a strong Vitagraph drama "An Unwritten Chapter," with Dorothy Kelly, S. Rankin Drew, Mary Maurice, and Wm. Humphrey in the cast.

Wednesday is regular Pathe's Weekly Day and in addition there will be a grand two-reel Pathe feature "The Human Vulture." Thursday a grand Vitagraph two-reel feature "The White Slave" with Clara Kimball Young, Earle Williams, Lillian Walker, Wm. Humphrey and a grand cast of Vitagraph stars. On Friday another great two-reel feature entitled "When A Woman Loves." And Saturday Henry King and Dolly Larkin in "The Camera's Testimony," and other good numbers. In summing up the week, it looks like one of the strongest lines of pictures ever shown in Bryan.

THE PALACE.

Palace, the modern show house had an exceptional program the past week in fact this show is always up to the standard and promises the picture going public the highest class of pictures obtainable. The manager is untiring in his efforts to please the public and that this is being accomplished you will only have to notice its increased patronage from week to week. Many compliments were heard of the last week's program and the quality of the pictures and we feel under obligations to the universal people for the program they have booked us for this week; beginning with today we have:

"Mistaken Intention."—Gem. Billy Quick, the wellknown comedian having trouble with his intended father-in-law. A laughable comedy.

CONTEST IN FIRST DISTRICT

[By Associated Press.]

Austin, Tex., Aug. 4.—With all the prohibitionists except Morrow voting for it, the Senate today resolved itself into a committee of the whole on privileges and elections to consider contest in the first district. A motion to swear in as senator Dr. Oliver who had a majority of twenty-four on the face of the returns, was offered, but its consideration was halted by a point of order that no election certificate had been received.

Prof. and Mrs. E. J. Kyle and little daughter Miss Bessie and Misses Mary Ross Parker Bessie Seale and Frances Chance leave tonight for New Orleans, where they will take a steamer for New York, and spend a month there and in Canada.

The Boy and the Bee.

Bee Master (to pupil who has just brushed off bee which stung him)—Ah, you shouldn't do that! The bee will die now. You should have helped her to extract her sting, which is spirally barbed, by gently turning her round and round. Pupil—All very well for you, but how do I know which way she unscrews?—London Punch.

Music Without Sound.

The fundamental evil in music is the necessity of reproduction of its artistic creations by performance. Were it as easy to learn to read music as words the sonatas of Beethoven would have the popularity of the poems of Schiller.—F. Hiller.

Modern Witches. Centuries have passed since "witches" were executed in England, but in very recent times they have suffered physical harm. Dr. Jessopp knew a Norfolk man who died in 1883, and in the sixties had joined with his two brothers in a night expedition to the house of an old woman. They took her out of bed, and in the presence of half a dozen other people threw her into a pond, "where she would infallibly have been drowned, but that some who were not so mad as the rest cried out that she was sinking to the bottom and must be saved." The conclusive evidence against her was that she kept a black cat and wore a black silk dress on Sundays. In 1882 there was still alive, and master in an elementary school, one who, as a young man, had scratched a "witch's" arms till the blood poured down, because she had "overlooked" him, and only so could his health be restored.—London Chronicle.

Compulsory Illuminations.

The west end of London is always ablaze with lights on the evening of the king's birthday, but no living Londoner can claim to have seen a general illumination of the metropolis. In his "Recollection and Reflection" J. R. Planche writes: "The last general illumination of London was that celebrating the battle of Waterloo. Now there are more beautiful displays, but this one was really general. Not a window in the smallest court but had its candle stuck in a lump of clay, while in houses of more pretension one blazed in every pane. Mobs paraded the metropolis from Hyde park-corner to Whitechapel with cries of 'Light up!' and smashed every window that did not swiftly display a dip in answer to the summons."
